SPORTSMANSHIP IN ACTION

Good sportsmanship is one of the keys to a successful sports season. Spectators and participants are all guests and have a responsibility to uphold the ideal of good manners and sportsmanship. Game officials should be treated with respect and authority. The Code of Behavior in the Handbook applies for sporting as well as school events. These guidelines have been adopted to help both students and spectators have a successful experience at Springman athletic competitions.

Please sign below, indicating that you agree to follow the "Sportsmanship in Action" guidelines.
